

TRINE UNIVERSITY

Rights for Victims of Sexual Assault, Domestic Violence, Dating Violence and Stalking

Trine University is committed to providing options, support and assistance to victims/survivors of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking to ensure that they can continue to participate in University-wide programs, activities, and employment. All victims/survivors of these crimes and violations have the following rights and options, regardless of whether the crime or violation occurs on campus, off campus or while studying abroad.

STATEMENT OF VICTIM'S RIGHTS:

- The right to prompt, fair and impartial investigation and appropriate resolution of all credible complaints of sexual violence;
- The right to be treated with respect by University officials;
- The right of both survivor/reporting party and accused/responding party to have the same opportunity to have others present (in support or advisory roles);
- The right not to be discouraged by University officials from reporting an assault to both on-campus and off-campus authorities;
- The right to be informed of the outcomes of any University investigation involving sexual violence;
- The right to be notified of available counseling, mental health or student services for victims/survivors of sexual violence, both on campus and in the community;
- The right to appeal the finding and sanction in accordance with the standards for appeal in accordance with Trine's Title IX policy;
- The right to preservation of confidentiality, to the extent possible and to the extent allowed by law;
- The right to have university policies and procedures followed without material deviation;
- The right to be informed in advance of any public release of information regarding the complaint.
