1. I understand that if I am readmitted, my financial aid is not automatically reinstated.
2. If my change of major is from one school to another or from a four-year program to a two-year program, I may be allowed to drop D's and F's from my GPA if the courses are not required in the new degree program. The department chair of my new major will decide which courses, if any, will be dropped.
3. I understand that dropping D's will affect the number of credits I have earned, and therefore may affect my eligibility for financial aid and/or athletics.
4. In cases where a student is readmitted to a major in which he or she was previously enrolled, all grades earned in the previous major must be included in the cumulative grade point average.

I have read the above listed information, and I am choosing to apply for readmission to Trine University for the
