

OTTO GRUENBERG'S PHILOSOPHY:

“You should use your mind to the best of your ability.
If you put forth your best, I’ll meet you halfway.”

Do you possess the outstanding characteristics and moral values that would meet the high standards of Otto C. Gruenberg?

Being ethical, civic-minded, possessing initiative, being hard working, having a dedication to excellence, and being willing to do your best are some of these high standards.

Otto Gruenberg, a long-time resident of Ridgewood, N.J., was one of six children born outside Gary, Ind. Although his college education and later his career were interrupted by volunteering to serve in World War I and World War II, he became an executive of one of this nation’s leading railroads. After World War I, he returned to Tri-State College in Angola, Ind., to earn his degree in mechanical engineering in 1921. He enrolled in the MBA program at Harvard University in railroad administration in 1930. When World War II broke out, he enlisted and served as cavalry officer in Europe. He served in World War II as a lieutenant colonel, helping to rebuild the railroads in Australia, New Guinea, Leyte, and Luzon, where he was chief mechanical officer for the Railway Division. He worked in railroading in various capacities at the Chicago Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad, Boston and Maine Railroad, New York Ontario and Western Railroad, and New York Susquehanna and Western Railroad Co. He designed steam and diesel locomotives for the American Locomotive Co. in New York. He was in “Who’s Who In Railroading” and “International Engineering.” He ultimately became president of the New York Susquehanna and Western Railroad Co.

Mr. Gruenberg was a charter member of Good Shepherd Lutheran Church, Glen Rock, N.J. He was its first treasurer and a strong, long-time supporter of the church. He amassed his assets as an individual investor in the stock market. He was a meticulous record keeper and subscribed to the chartist theory of investing. His office at his home was filled with his daily tracking of the stock market, which he would gladly show all visitors. His interests in railroading, investing, and in his church were complemented by his enjoyment of European art and fine wine. His life embodied sacrifice for his country, moral rectitude, hard work, and belief in a good education. The foundation represents his legacy in which young students who share his character traits and moral standards will be afforded the opportunity to enjoy a fine college education.

Summary

The purpose of the Gruenberg Foundation Scholarship Program is to assist students who are citizens of the U.S. in pursuing undergraduate education at Trine. Scholarships of $3,500 or more will be awarded to eligible high school seniors entering Trine University. The recipient may reapply in each of three undergraduate additional years, if appropriate. Award determinations will be made with the assistance of the Scholarship Advisory Committee. Average award last year was $6,750.

Background

The Gruenberg Foundation was established after the death in 1994 of Otto C. Gruenberg. Mr. Gruenberg wanted worthy students to reach their fullest potential by having access to the institution. He wanted to encourage the highest moral character and ethical values in the scholarship recipients. It is the intention of the Gruenberg Foundation that the scholarships be awarded to students who possess the character and values espoused by Mr. Gruenberg.

Who may apply?

To be eligible, each applicant must be a U.S. citizen and entering their first year at Trine University in the fall immediately following high school graduation. Each applicant must have a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0 on a 4.0 scale.

What are some of the criteria for selection?

- Scholastic achievement
- Initiative
- Ethics
- Citizenship
- Perseverance
- Character
- Demonstration of a strong commitment to family, friends, and the greater community.
- Moral character that reflects the highest of ethical standards.
- Commitment to remain drug-free and willingness to take noninvasive drug tests as a personal statement of such commitment.
- Strong scholastic performance while in high school, indicated by attaining a grade point average of 3.0 or better.
- Exemplary qualities of leadership in school and extracurricular activities in the community. Recipients will have been actively involved in a volunteer organization of their choosing and will have exhibited an interest in extracurricular activities such as music, theater or debate, or have been involved in some form of part-time employment.
- Relative financial need as determined by the Advisory Committee based on the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA).
- Acceptance as a full-time, first-year undergraduate student at Trine as a high school senior.
- Applicants are required to submit two recommendations
- Personality
- Work habits
- Ability to set realistic goals
- Responsibility
- Financial need

on the forms provided with this application. Sealed recommendations should be included with your application.

- All awards will be made without regard to race, religion, ethnicity, national origin, gender, sexual preference, age, or physical handicap.

What are the award conditions?

- The recipient must sign the Code of Conduct in the scholarship application and, as a demonstration of compliance to the actions and values reflected in the code, sign such a statement annually.
- If a recipient chooses not to continue in the college program in a particular year, the award will be canceled and the unspent portion, if any, will be returned.
- The Gruenberg Foundation Scholarships are not intended to displace other scholarship aid. Should you receive enough other financial aid, Trine will be requested to return to the foundation the portion of your Gruenberg scholarship which would displace other aid. The Gruenberg Foundation Scholarships may displace loans.
- Scholarship awards are made at the discretion of the foundation's Scholarship Committee based on the Scholarship Advisory Committee recommendations.

Are awards renewable?

- Once an applicant has received a scholarship award, he/she is eligible to reapply for scholarship aid for up to three additional years during which he/she remains a full-time undergraduate student at Trine, maintains a grade point average of 3.0 or better, and fulfills the other criteria of the program. Renewal is not assured, however, and is subject to the approval of the Scholarship Committee.
- Recipients denied renewal no longer qualify for reapplication.
- Applicants eligible for scholarship renewal must notify the foundation in writing of their request for renewal prior to the end of the academic year in which they received their current award.

How will award payments be paid?

- Award payments will be made to the Office of Student Accounts, or its equivalent, in the name of Trine University and the recipient. Payments may be applied toward tuition, fees, room and/or board, or billed by the university as designated by the recipient.
- Scholarships will be paid directly to the university in advance of the student's enrollment. The first semester payment will be paid in August, while the second semester payment will be paid in December.
- Award payments will be made as soon as:
 1. The recipient has signed and returned the terms of grant agreement to the foundation;
 2. Trine has verified the student's enrollment; and
 3. Trine has verified that it will not reduce other awarded grant aid as a result of this award, unless required by federal or state law.
- Awards are subject to state and federal income tax guidelines.

How do I apply?

- Complete the application and all attachments and file with the Scholarship Advisory Committee by the postmarked deadline of April 3, 2023.
- Complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) at <https://fafsa.gov>. In order to meet the application deadline, the FAFSA must be completed and to the federal processor by the March 1 priority filing deadline. Trine's school code is 001839.
- You are responsible for seeing that all materials are postmarked on or before the deadline for receiving applications. Applications that are not postmarked by the April 3, 2023, deadline will be ineligible. No exceptions.
