

“The Summer of Love”

When Caesar crossed the Rubicon, did the Rubicon cross Caesar?

I hear the machine gun fire, fire in my head

I smell the agent orange burning, burning in my nose

I feel the bloody hands grasping, grasping at my heart

When Caesar crossed the Rubicon, did the Rubicon cross Caesar?

They say I'll have to fight again, again in Da Nang

They hand me a gun again, again to kill the reds

They call me a hero again, again they ship me off

When Caesar crossed the Rubicon, did the Rubicon cross Caesar?

I will not go back to kill, kill in freedom's name

I won't hear the children scream, scream out in pain

I cannot cross the Rubicon, Caesar died in Vietnam.
